

BCRG Update 6_2013, Reverse beepers, web procedure, BRAG in the news

18/03/2013

Hi everyone,
In this latest update please find:

- 1) Reverse Beeper update
- 2) Brooklynip Web Procedure
- 3) BRAG news article in The Age

1) Quick Update: Reversing beepers

Noise from reversing beepers (particularly from forklifts) has been an ongoing issue over the life of BCRG. Richard Marks (EPA Victoria) is contacting the Victorian Container Association to discuss this issue.

2) Brooklynip Web Procedure

The management of the brooklynip.com.au website has changed. The site will continue to be owned by the EPA but all content within the website will now be managed by Andrea Mason, Executive Officer of BCRG.

The new website procedure is now available. If you have any news, updates or changes to information relevant to the Brooklyn website please check the procedure to ensure your content meets the guidelines, then contact Andrea at eo.bcr@gmail.com or phone 0427 338 482.

Remember to regularly check if your information is correct so that the public is always able to stay up to date with what is happening in Brooklyn!

3) BRAG in The Age

BRAG continues to for the community on the issue of dust in Brooklyn and the associated impacts on health. See the full article Brooklyn pleads tough action on air pollution in The Age on March 4, 2013.
