

20th February, 2014

BCRG Update 03 2014, Website down, 2014 targets, BCC & EPA updates, Cargill Open Day

1) Brooklynip website

Unfortunately the brooklynip website is unavailable but we hope to have it back online ASAP. This means I cannot host some of the documents I would have liked to send you in this update. In the interim please email me directly if you need any information from the website.

2) BCRG Targets 2014

As reported at the Feb BCRG meeting, Jen has produced some targets for us to monitor over the course of 2014. These targets were developed by participants of the November 2013 meeting, and then discussed with each of the organisations involved.

Our apologies for not being able to bring printed copies to the meeting.

If you would like a copy of these targets before the website is restored, please email Andrea, eo.bcrq@gmail.com.

3) Brimbank newsletters and EPA update

Susan Fitton and Tashia Dixon from Brimbank CC had copies of the latest newsletters for the Brooklyn Evolution and Living Brooklyn at the recent forum which are now available.

The EPA report is also available. Again, if you would like copies of any of these before the website is restored, please email Andrea, eo.bcrq@gmail.com

4) Cargill Open House

Cargill is opening its doors to the public at its Brooklyn Site, 425 Somerville Road, Brooklyn, Thursday 20th March 2014, 3 - 5 pm.

The Open House will consist of a Company Presentation, Site Tour & Questions.

RSVP by Wednesday 19th March 2014
